

Press Information
April 14th 2015

“Strangelives” is a new exhibition featuring the photography of Strange.rs

theprintspace are pleased to announce the opening of a new exhibition featuring the works of the Strange.rs collective. This exhibition, entitled Strangelives, marks the collective’s first show in London and will showcase images from every member. Strange.rs are: Ben Anderson, Paul Brunner, Alex Crétey Systemans, Michael Dennington, Greg Flanders, Tommy Forbes, John Goldsmith, Jared Iorio, Naveen Jamal, Oscar Juárez, Ludmilla Morais, Chris Norris, Kramer O’Neill, Alex JD Smith, David Solomons, Justin Vogel, David Wilson.

Strangelives is a series of fictional biographies told with images rather than words. It is the recognition that any life, when viewed from the exterior, consists of a hodgepodge of anecdote, happenstance, mood, and place. To construct a life, to imagine the existence of another singular human being, is to bear witness to a string of accident and intention, risks taken, adventures endured, loves won or lost. Strangelives are the stories told by a collective of photographers from all over the world, and are pieced together with images that share a common aesthetic and narrative sensibility, despite being completely unrelated in space and time. These photographic poems en prose are intended less to provide a linear narrative of a fictional life than to invite viewers to re-arrange, re-interpret, and re-imagine each individual existence according to their own guise and pleasure. They are a reminder of the extraordinary chance of each and every life, whether real or fictional, strange or ordinary.

Strange.rs is an international photography collective. We are a group of artists and creative professionals that are united in supporting one another as well as the greater creative community. Founded in 2010, the Strange.rs members collaborate on a variety of projects including short stories, extended photo essays, and multi-layered projects. By weaving individual members’ photos into more complex depictions, we present unique, one of a kind, narratives showing the subtle strangeness hidden behind everyday reality. With the collectives’ strength in numbers and geography, we are able to present narratives that would otherwise be impossible for any one person.

theprintspace gallery, will host a comprehensive collection of fine-art artworks, all of which are available for purchase via the exhibition gallery hosted on theprintspace’s dedicated online art-sales platform thehub.

Exhibition Specifics:

theprintspace
74 Kingsland Rd, London, E2 8DL

Thursday 23rd April – Friday 8th May 9am – 7pm Daily

Private View: Wednesday 22nd April, 7.00pm – 10.00pm

The dedicated hub gallery for viewing and purchasing prints from the show can be found at: art.tt/jc6

For image, interview requests or further information please contact:
Tel: +44 (0) 207 324 7104 / leoscott@theprintspace.co.uk